REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the present invention relates to a non-volatile memory device having a plurality of bit line control circuits. The independent claims 28, 91, 97, 104, 112, 115, 119 and 124 recite a non-volatile memory device having a row decoder circuit to supply a write verify voltage to the word line, a plurality of bit line control circuits each being provided for at least one of the bit lines, and each storing data of a first logic level or a second logic level, wherein the bit line control circuit storing data of the first logic level performs a detection operation for detecting a written state of a first memory cell corresponding to the bit line control circuit storing data of the first logic level a predetermined period after completion of a charging operation for a charging a first bit line corresponding to the bit line control circuit storing data of the first logic level, and a second bit line corresponding to the bit line control circuit storing data of the second logic level is set to a first voltage during the predetermined period. The PRIOR ART fails to disclose or suggest such a non-volatile memory device having the features as described in the independent claims 28, 91, 97, 104, 112, 115, 119 and 124, therefore, claims 28-129 are in condition for allowance.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
